Conflicts of Interest

In the financial services industry there is potential for conflicts of interest. We have a policy in place so that when potential or actual conflicts arise, we have effective procedures to deal with them.

Here are some examples of conflicts of interest to give you an idea, however, we will deal with each case as it comes up.

These examples are of conflicts of interest where we or a company connected to us:

- (i) Is the financial adviser or banker to the issuer of a product, or is involved in another transaction involving the issuer of a product.
- (ii) Is sponsoring or underwriting, or is involved in some other capacity in the issue, of a product, or is involved in another transaction involving the issuer of a product.
- (iii) Has (or have some other client who has) a holding or a dealing position in a product (or in other investments related to it), whether as a market maker or otherwise.
- (iv) Is the operator or trustee of, or investment adviser to, a collective investment scheme, in whose units you are dealing or being recommended to deal.
- (v) Receives payments or other benefits for giving business to the firm or company with which your order is placed.
- (vi) Is controlled by, or control, or is under common control with the issuer of a product.

We, or a company connected to us, may act as described above, without telling you and in doing so, we will not be in breach of any duty or obligation to you. And unless we are required by law or regulation to do so;

- (i) We may receive, keep and not be liable to you for any benefits (such as commission or other remuneration) that anyone pays us for introducing or handling your business or for acting as we have described above, on any transaction we, or a connected company carry out for you.
- (ii) Any company connected to us may receive and keep and not be liable to you for any benefit coming out of any transaction that we or a connected company carry out for you.

Action and remedies taken by the Bank in the event of default by the Customer

The consequences of default by you on any particular product are outlined in the product documentation supplied to you at the time of account opening. Special provisions apply in the case of buildings' insurance. The Bank retains the right to ensure that buildings' cover is in place at all times and to charge borrowers for any costs incurred.

Compensation Schemes available in the event of default by the Bank

The Deposit Guarantee Scheme in Ireland was established by the European Communities (Deposit Guarantee Schemes) Regulations, 1995, amended by the European Communities (Deposit Guarantee Schemes) (Amendment) Regulations 2009 (S.I. No. 228 of 2009) and amended by the European Union (Deposit Guarantee Schemes) Regulations 2015 (S.I. No. 516 of 2015).

The Deposit Guarantee Scheme is funded by credit institutions which are authorised by the Central Bank of Ireland. The system is administered by the Central Bank of Ireland. The scheme protects eligible deposits in banks, building societies and credit unions authorised in Ireland. Deposits with credit institutions authorised in another European Economic Area ("EEA") country and operating in Ireland on a branch basis are covered under that country's system. These credit institutions may opt in to the Deposit Guarantee Scheme, in which case the terms set out in this leaflet apply. Ulster Bank Ireland DAC contributes to the Deposit Guarantee Scheme.

The maximum compensation payable is €100,000 per person per credit institution and includes any interest due up to the date of default. Thus, a depositor with a deposit account totalling €75,000 would receive compensation of €75,000 while a depositor with eligible deposits of €100,000 or more would receive the maximum compensation of €100,000. Similarly, two depositors holding a joint account totalling €150,000 would receive compensation of €75,000 each while two depositors holding a joint account totalling €300,000 would receive maximum compensation of €100,000 each.

For further information on the Deposit Guarantee Scheme, please ask for a copy of the booklet "Deposit Guarantee Scheme" which is available on request. Alternatively, visit the website of the Deposit Guarantee Scheme – www.depositguarantee.ie.
